

Host tips for a successful morning tea.

#biggestmorningtea

Cancer Council
Australia's Biggest Morning Tea

A large illustration at the top of the page features a blue teacup with a heart-shaped steam, a yellow lemon with a green leaf, and a large blue teapot with a pattern of small blue dashes. The background is a dark blue wavy shape.

Host a tip-top tea in 4 easy steps!

A blue teapot with a pattern of small blue dashes, similar to the one in the top illustration.

1. Start planning

After you've registered your morning tea and set a date, it's time to start planning. We've helped you out by sending you a host kit packed full of ideas, recipes, posters, games, decorations and more to help make your event a success. You can also download extra decorations and goodies from our website www.biggestmorningtea.com.au

A blue teacup with a heart-shaped steam, similar to the one in the top illustration.

2. Spread the word

Be sure to invite all your colleagues, clients, friends and family along to your morning tea. You can find downloadable invites and social tiles on our website, and don't forget to share your fundraising page on your social media channels!

A yellow teapot with a purple heart on its side.

3. Make it personal

Sadly, all of us will be affected by cancer at some point in our lives and this is exactly what inspires many of our supporters to host their Australia's Biggest Morning Tea. Each event is as unique as the stories behind it. Make your morning tea personal, whether it's at home with friends, in the park with your family, or at work or with your local community – you decide.

A yellow teacup with a heart-shaped steam.

4. Bank your funds and make a difference

After you've packed up the teacups and cleared away the crumbs, it's time to finalise fundraising and bank your funds. The funds you raise help run our vital support services, life-saving cancer research projects and educational prevention programs. Be sure to let your attendees and social networks know how much you all raised to support people impacted by cancer.